Wednesday, September 17, 1986

All eyes are on the ball as the I.E. Weldon goalie and HHSS players jockey for position in front of the visitor's net. This past week marked the opening of Inter-High School Field Sports including two soccer games on Thursday and two exhibition football games on Friday. For a report on the season openers, see pages ten and eleven.

Motorcyclist treated after accident

On September 13, on Highway 121 east of Allsaw Bridge, a car/motor-cycle accident resulted in one person being taken to Haliburton Hospital for treatment to injuries. David Hodgins, 17 of Haliburton who was riding a 1985 Yamaha motorcycle was released from hospital after treatment. Hodgins' injuries occurred when the motor-cycle he was driving was in collision with a 1986 Pontiac being driven by Deborah Davies aged 34, of Toronto and was turning left into a private drive.

The incident was investigated by Constable Brad Burkholder.

On September 14 while eastbound on Highway 121 at Loon Lake, Steven Lumsden aged 24 of Scarborough received major injuries when the 1985 Yamaha motorcycle he was operating was in collision with a vehicle stopped in the westbound lane shoulder. James Price, 41, was not injured in the collision however Lumsden was taken to Haliburton Hospital then transferred to Sunnybrooke Hospital in Toronto by Air Ambulance.

Continuing the investigation is Constable Dave

Rogers.

Council proposes system purchase

Anson, Hindon and Minden Council gave second reading to a bylaw at their meeting on Tuesday, September 9) whereby the municipality will accept the cost of its sewage plant.

A copy of the bylaw will be sent to the Ontario Municipal Board and if it is passed there, council will give the bylaw its third reading.

The plant, completed in 1977 at a price of $4,200,000 cost twice as much as original estimates offered by the Ministry of Environment. When the full extent of cost overrun became known, the municipality attempted to persuade the ministry to accept some of the burden.

Council was advised last winter by a law firm hired to find ways of dealing with the problem to stop making debt payments to the ministry. Before council had a chance to cease payments however, Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins announced provincial grants to the municipality totalling $279,700 to help cover the debt.

According to the new agreement being worked out between Anson, Hindon and Minden and the Ministry of Environment, the municipality will pay the ministry a total of $534,850 over a twenty year period at an interest rate of ten per cent.

It works out, says municipal clerk Bev Millar, to approximately what we would have paid had there been no cost overrun and less optimistic and unrealistic estimates on the growth of the Minden population.

The sewage plant was designed to conform to estimates for population growth in Minden that have since proved incorrect.

Under the new agreement home owners will be paying approximately the same amount in user fees that they pay at present. The municipality has long been pushing for a new financing arrangement that could be considered fair.

The Ministry of the Environment began to encourage the municipality to build a sewage treatment plant - as it did many other townships and municipalities across the province - in the early seventies. The ministry agreed to arrange financing for the project and also to supervise construction.

The original estimate of the cost of the plant submitted to the then council was just under $2 million. The ministry estimated the population of

47 add $1300 to Terry Fox research effort

Some 47 participants helped the local Terry Fox run raise an estimated $1300. The ten kilometre event was held Sunday afternoon in Haliburton in conjunction with similar runs across the country.

The events are organized in memory of Terry Fox, with participants accumulating pledges based on the number of kilometres they complete. The money raised is used to support cancer research in Canada.

John Stouffer was the fastest over the course, completing the circuit in 21 minutes 27 seconds. He had a distinct advantage over the runners however, as he was riding a bicycle.

The fastest runner taking part in the event was Mike Irwin who completed the course in 47:07. Hot on his heels was Gary Brohman with a time of 47:26. Third spot among the runners went to Scott Russell in a time of 48:34.

Second place among the cyclists went to Jamie Stouffer at 27:37 while Gary Burke was third at 27:54.

The award for the largest number of pledges went to Michael Oram of Wilberforce. He registered with $144 riding on his participation.

Runners break from the starting line as the 1986 Terry Fox run gets underway in Haliburton Sunday afternoon. 47 participants covered the ten kilometre distance to assist in raising $1300 to help fight cancer in Canada. Top runner of the day was Mike Irwin with a time of 47:04.

Nigerians tour Haliburton Highlands

The Rotary Clubs of Minden and Haliburton hosted visits by five Nigerians earlier this week. The visits to the two communities were part of an exchange program co-ordinated through Rotary International.

Under the program, two Rotary districts in the area are twinned. Each district then selects a group of five non-Rotarians from within its geographic area to travel to the other country. The group is accompanied by a Rotarian team leader. All but the incidental expenses of the visitors is paid for by Rotary International. While the group is in the district, they are billeted with Rotary families.

The Haliburton County clubs shared the visit of the Nigerian members of the Group Study Exchange. Three stayed in Minden while another two, including the group leader, Sam A. Briggs, were hosted by the Haliburton club.

The visitors arrived Sunday afternoon. Their first comment after meeting their hosts concerned the coolness of the weather. Sunday's 55-60 degree temperatures were a far cry from the 90 plus degrees they left behind in Nigeria. The African nation is located just five degrees north of the equator.

On Sunday, the visitors enjoyed a number of social events, meeting their host families and other members of the community. On Monday the Minden group was taken on a tour of various locations through the Highlands. Included in the tour was the Orillia Water Light and Power dam north of Minden, the Wild Water Preserve, the Frost Centre and the Kanawa International Canoe Museum. At the museum, the visitors were intrigued by the collection of watercraft, but were somewhat dismayed to learn that the extensive collection only included three examples of African craft. Doctor Emmanuel Edet offered his assistance in obtaining a canoe from Nigeria upon his return to Africa.

The visitors hosted by the Haliburton club visited a number of tourist facilities including Maple Sands Resort. They also visited Martin's Mill in Wilberforce to see how the lumber cut from the area is processed. While returning from the mill visit, the group happened upon a motor vehicle accident. A logging truck had flipped over trapping the driver. The Rotarian hosts and visitors assisted in freeing the accident victim.

Both clubs hosted a social evening for the Nigerians Monday.

The group left for its next destination, Orillia, Tuesday morning.

Interestingly, a second group was to visit this Rotary District at the same time. The group was to have left Pakistan earlier this month and were aboard the Pan American airliner commandeered by hijackers. Two members of the group were seriously injured in the exchange of gunfire which ended the drama. Their visit has been postponed.

Both the Minden and Haliburton Rotary clubs are now seeking candidates to be a part of the return visit to Nigeria in March of next year. Those interested in taking part should contact members of either club for more information.

Bob Liscombe, supervisor of the Orillia Water Light and Power Hydro Electric Station in Minden, explains the operation of the plant to visitors from Nigeria. Part of a Rotary International Exchange program, the three are spending four weeks in Canada. Included in the group are, from the left, Sunday Nwankpa, bio-chemist, Dr. Emmanuel Edet, Liscombe, and architect Tonye Braide.

A problem solved

What appears to be a final solution to the debt and doubt surrounding the cost of Minden's sewage disposal system should be welcomed by village residents. It would appear that a price tag has finally been put on the project and therefore those who must pay for its construction and operating costs will have some indication how much the service will cost over the next 20 years.

The problems surrounding the sewage systems are not easy to untangle. Overly optimistic projections of population growth, underestimation of the true cost of the installation and a seeming unwillingness on the part of the provincial government to reveal what had gone awry or provide assistance in correcting the situation, led to a spiralling debt that threatened to swamp the municipality.

The problems began percolating to the surface five years ago and it wasn't until a high-powered accounting firm was brought in to untangle the mess that the magnitude of the situation became obvious. Even then, the provincial authorities couldn't, or wouldn't, do much more than watch the municipality wrestle with the problem.

The change of government appeared to engender a change of heart and opened the doors of understanding in the bureaucracy. Most recently, the province announced a $279,000 debt retirement, which provided the breathing space needed for the municipality to work out a plan to pay off the outstanding amount. With the blessing of the Ontario Municipal Board and final reading of the bylaw by the municipal council, the worry over the looming debt will finally be put to rest.

While the last three councils have wrestled with this conundrum, struggling to reach a solution, the present council must be recognized as the one which brought it this close to solution. But the success of the most recent effort, indeed, the change in the attitude of the provincial authorities, can be attributed to MPP John Eakins. We feel sure that without his intervention and concern, the township would still be struggling to find a solution.

Cute kittens three, these furry balls of fuzz were found abandoned at the Minden dump. Barely four weeks old, the animals will soon be eligible for adoption from the Minden Animal Clinic.

New boundary for riding

by Bill Scott, M.P.

On August 30th, the Electoral Boundaries Commission for the Province of Ontario published their proposals for new federal electoral boundaries in the Canada Gazette.

The proposals would reduce the size of Victoria - Haliburton slightly by removing the Township of Georgina and adding the Townships of Manvers and Cavan, including the Village of Millbrook which were previously in Durham-Northumberland. Anyone wishing a copy of the Canada Gazette containing maps and full written descriptions of each electoral district can get one by calling the Federal Electoral Boundaries Commission for Ontario at (416) 973-5425 (collect) or Elections Canada at 1-800-267-2380 or (613) 993-2975 (collect).

As provided in the Electoral Boundaries Readjustment Act, the Commission will hold a public sitting for the hearing of representations about the proposals for Victoria - Haliburton in Belleville on Thursday, November 20th at 10:00 a.m. If any person or group wishes to make a representation to the Commission at the hearing they must give notice to the Commission within 53 days of September 5th, the date of the publication of the last advertisement of the proposals. By my calculation this would be October 28, 1986. This notice must be addressed to Mr. Alan Stewart, Secretary, Federal Electoral Boundaries Commission for Ontario, 180 Dundas Street West, Suite 305, Toronto, Ontario, M5G 1Z8.

The boundaries that result from this process will most probably be in effect for the next Federal General Election.

letters letters

Editor:

I'd like to reply to John P. Hill's letter in your August 27 edition.

In his letter, Mr. Hill states his father purchased the land in 1929 and they subsequently named it Pine Point. I should like to inform him that the land in question was known as Pine Point for many years, before even Mr. Hill was born.

Mr. Hill also mentions how his father struggled to pay the taxes on the land during the Depression. I'd like to remind him if it had not been for the residents of Ingoldsby and Lochlin supporting his store during that time, he would not have been able to do that.

Teen's landmark closed after 34 years of food, fun and dancing

About a mile and a half outside Carnarvon on the old Highway 35 route, there's a long, low building with a sign on the front, saying Price's Mae Bar. The setting is pretty: Twelve Mile Lake is just across the road and on most summer days you can see boats bobbing in the swell and cottages peeking out from the thick green foliage on the shore line for miles around. On either side of the Mae Bar, huge pines tower over the road and building, giving shade from the afternoon sun.

The place is deserted now - it has been since Norm and Mae Price closed down in 1984 - but for 34 years, it was a landmark for young people across Haliburton County. On any given summer weekend night, says Mae, you could find as many as 200 kids at the Mae Bar, sipping sodas, eating dinner, munching on foot-long hotdogs, dancing to the beat from a juke box, or just lining up to get inside.

"On some nights," she says, "you just couldn't get through to serve meals, the crowd was so thick. They'd be lined up outside waiting for a seat and inside they'd have filled just about every bit of available space."

"At first, when we opened in the early fifties, we used to pull some of the tables to the sides of the dining room so kids could dance, but after ten or twelve years, I had to put a stop to it because I just couldn't handle the extra work."

Norm and Mae are originally from Toronto. They came to Carnarvon in 1951 - or at least Mae did. Norm stayed in the city to run a restaurant they owned there, and he would come up on weekends to visit his wife and deliver supplies.

"It was hard for me during those first years," says Mae. "Norm was always away and the place quickly became popular. We started off in 1951 with just a snack bar - three tables and six chairs. A year later, we added on the dining room and by 1960 we had 14 staff members to run the kitchen and dining room."

The Mae Bar was in its heyday then. People were coming for miles around just to sample their hot dogs and to dance and eat until the early hours of the morning. It was also the year the Price's added on their soda fountain, an item kids today know little about, but which in the fifties and sixties was essential in any bar or restaurant catering to young people.

But what really helped, explains Norm, was "the relationship we had with the Medley Dance Hall up the road in Carnarvon. It was a huge place and it was also packed on weekends. The kids used to dance there for a while and then come down to the Mae Bar for a snack and maybe to dance some more to our juke box."

"They'd be going back and forth and meeting and talking on the way. It's difficult to make anyone see today just how big the crowds were."

Muriel and Bud Medley, who sold their hall in 1976, remember it well. "We had 600 kids in our place some nights," says Muriel, "and they were always popping out to the Mae Bar for a snack. It was written up in one of the Toronto papers; they said the traffic up and down the road there was like Yonge Street. And that's just the way it was."

"And the kids in those days were different from kids today. You had to be over 21 to drink back then, so we didn't serve alcohol. It was all good, clean fun and the kids were wonderful."

"We had a rule that no one could come into our dance hall wearing shorts, and everyone dressed well, though sometimes our staff would lend the girls who came in, skirts to slip on over their shorts, if they didn't know about the rule."

Mae Price also believes those were the good old days, before rock and roll became popular and when kids really just wanted to have fun. And it was about then, when business was best at the Mae Bar and when her life was most frantic that something happened to make her and her husband decide to sell their Toronto restaurant.

"After the city place closed up Friday nights, Norm would load the truck with supplies for the Mae Bar and then he'd drive up for the weekend. One night, after a particularly hard day - it was about 1959 - he fell asleep at the wheel and drove into the ditch."

Norm remembers the incident vividly: "Yes, I just nodded off one night at about two in the morning, and I was woken by a case that became dislodged by the force of the thump and fell against me."

Miraculously, neither Norm nor his truck was damaged. "I just backed up and continued on my way," says Norm. But after that close call, Mae decided she didn't want her husband taking any more risks and that it was time to sell the Toronto restaurant.

The change made life easier for both of them and it also meant that Norm could take a larger share in the work of running the Mae Bar.

Work was always hard, but the Price's look back fondly on the times and especially on the staff they've had over the years. "They were all carefully picked," says Mae. "I went to the high schools as far away as Peterborough and Toronto to get my summer staff, and of course we weren't open in the winter so they kept us through the season. They were all good kids and they liked to work."

Sometimes, she remembers, they would ask permission to hold dances after the customers had left, in the early hours of the morning. "It got to be at times that the kids were just going to bed just as most folks were getting up."

Grace Cowan, who now lives in Carnarvon, cooked for Mae Price for five years in the 1970's. "Yes, it was hard work, but we all liked working for Mae. It was so crowded on some nights you just couldn't get through to

(more on page 9)

Mae and Norman Price will soon be saying goodbye to the Haliburton Highlands and their business on Twelve Mile Lake. Price's Mae Bar was long an institution for area teens.

Another perspective on home

It has often been said that you don't appreciate home until you move out. The same can be said for one's community or country, indeed it is often those people who have travelled extensively overseas who voice the greatest love and admiration for their home turf.

It often seems that those most close to a particular locale or situation, are the least able to see it clearly. Their outlook is affected by the proximity of their perspective, creating a distorted view or one that only sees the negative while ignoring the good points.

I'm sure we've all experienced situations where a visitor to our home and area will begin singing the praises of the community in which we live. Of the fortunate circumstances of our day to day life. It is strange that we must rely on "outside" observers to point out the obvious benefits of life in our own community. And, when they do, we respond with a mixture of surprise, pride and more than a tiny bit of meekness. The latter being the result of the realization that the visitor has somehow beat us to the punch in extolling the virtues of our own community.

My conscience received a gentle nudge such as that earlier this week. Through my association with the local Rotary Club, I acted as tour guide for three young Nigerians visiting communities throughout this district.

Their time in our area was particularly brief, arriving on Sunday afternoon and departing Tuesday morning. During the day on Monday I had the honour of showing them some of the highlights of Haliburton County, and learning a little bit about their home country.

Nigeria is about the size of Ontario with a population of 100 million, I learned from the overseas guests. The country is run by the military, which keeps a fairly jack's world

by editor & publisher Jack Brezina close eye on those expressing dissenting opinions, using various state controlled media to ensure that the only message reaching the people is that approved by those in charge.

As we lingered over a second cup of coffee at a Dorset restaurant, taking in the view across the rolling Highlands, touched here and there with fall colours, the young men commented how fortunate I was to live in Canada. They marvelled at the seemingly endless space and room for growth that we enjoy. They wondered why we hadn't been stopped by police yet for a "licence" check. They were somewhat taken aback to learn that a vehicle is, for most Canadians, a necessity rather than a luxury.

Not that life is all that bad for them in Nigeria. Being young professionals, they appeared to enjoy a better than average lifestyle in their home communities. While the hand of the government appears to play a heavier part in their lives than we know here, they managed to get by without feeling oppressed. They seemed content with their lot in life.

But their comments about Canada's expanse, its potential for growth, the beauty of the Highlands, and small things, like the cleanliness of our roadsides, once again brought into sharp focus how fortunate we really are and how, from time to time, we forget that not everyone in the world shares the standard of living and freedom we take for granted.

It is interesting that these visitors were here to discover a little bit about Canada, and in the process they have heightened my own awareness, and no doubt that of others with whom they come in contact, of our good fortune to reside in this country, this county, this community.

from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

Over the course of the summer, our travel counsellors kept detailed records of the activities at the Chamber of Commerce. An estimated 6783 people visited the Chamber office. 87 percent of these tourists were from other parts of Ontario, 11 percent were from the States and 2 percent were from other parts of the world. An important fact was that 28 percent of the people surveyed were visiting the Haliburton Highlands for the first time.

Accommodation information was the most important reason for visiting the Chamber office. 19 percent of the people were looking for a hotel/motel, 16 percent were looking for resort/lodge, 12 percent for tent and trailer, 14 percent were looking for friends and relatives, 37 percent were looking for cottages and 2 percent were looking for bed and breakfast.

The next most sought after information by the tourists was information concerning the attractions of the area. 60 percent were visiting the area for rest and relaxation, 25 percent came for fishing, 13 percent said they were touring the county and 2 percent were here for business.

The Haliburton's Lure Book proved to be a great success. 158 written requests from Canada and the United States poured into the office. Requests for our Lure Book exceeded available stock by four to one. The chamber board and all chamber members should give a special thanks to Nicole Kanter and Kim Elias for a job well done over the busy summer months.

Anyone who is interested in improving their winter business should be considering participating in the all important Ski Show occurring Thursday, October 9 to Monday the 12. Winter business plays a vital part in creating a stable economy in the Highlands. At this show, the chamber committed itself to renting a booth. We need a good participation of winter accommodation and other related businesses to ensure not only that our costs are met, but also that the Highlands have a successful winter tourist season. Please let the chamber office know as soon as possible of your willingness to participate and help in this upcoming event.

Local team in Enduro

Team Rockcliffe, led by two-time Corduroy Enduro winner Blair Sharpless, is entered and ready to compete in this year's event. The Corduroy Enduro is the biggest and most prestigious offroad motorcycle race in Canada.

In its 33 year existence, the Cord start location has moved around quite a bit. This year's event will start at Bill's Hills in Wilberforce. Spectator points have been designated and maps may be picked up at the Rockcliffe Tavern, the Chamber of Commerce in Minden or at Race Headquarters. The two day race which will attract over 200 entries from Canada and the U.S. starts at noon on Saturday, September 20.

The Rockcliffe Tavern, along with co-sponsors, R & M Motorsports, Dunlop Tires and NGK Spark Plugs, are supporting the race efforts of Bombardier Inc.'s offroad race team. The riders, all mounted on Can-Am Enduro bikes, compete in events across Canada, the U.S. and at the ISDE in Italy.

The Ontario region Enduro and Hare Scramble Series is at the half way point and Toronto rider, Blair Sharpless, is currently the overall leader of both. Team Rockcliffe riders, Ed Strohak, Gary Bugg and Jim Hodgson are leading their individual classes as well. The team's oldest rider, Ross Lennox, will be competing in his twelfth Cord. Ross was the overall winner in 1982.

Murray Beetlestone of Minden is tuning up for this year's Cord and hopes to show all those southern riders just how fast he and his Can-Am can go.

Acid rain report

The following report is made available through Environment Canada based on information gathered at the Ontario Ministry of Environment testing station in Dorset. There were four precipitation events monitored during the past week at Dorset. They include:

- on September 9, 2 mm of rain fell with a pH reading of 4.9. The rain was traced from northern Indiana, northern Ohio and Southern Ontario.

- on September 10, 12 mm of rainfall was recorded with a pH of 4.1. The path of the precipitation was traced to Kentucky, Indiana and southern Ontario.

- on September 11, 42 mm of rain fell with a pH reading of 4.8. The rain was traced from Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio and southern Ontario.

- on September 12, 2 mm of rain fell with a pH of 5.2. The rain was traced from northern Quebec and central Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 or less are considered dangerous. The lower the pH reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

serve the food. Sometimes, if you started your shift in the evening, you didn't get dinner until after two in the morning.

In those days, we had good staff and the place ran well. The Price's kept a tight ship."

Mae and Norm feel most nostalgic when old staff members and patrons stop by to visit them at the house or greet them in the street. Sometimes they bring their families as well. "It's great," says Mae, "the way so many of them met their wives or husbands while they worked at the Mae Bar. But it gives me a strange feeling to see what were once my young staff, now doctors and lawyers with families to support.

Shake, rattle and roll

Fred Chapple, who now runs the Four Seasons Country Store in Carnarvon, spent many a Friday night at the Mae Bar in the 50's and 60's. "You'd put a nickel in the juke box and then shake, rattle and roll to your heart's content." Many of the kids who went there, he explains, were counsellors from the summer camps. They came from Sherwood Forest, Kilcoo and all sorts of other places, some of which are no longer in business.

"It was quite a sight to see the kids walking back and forth between Medley's and the Mae Bar, all somewhere between the ages of 22 and 13 or 14. It was before the days of VCR's and drugs, when people had to make their own entertainment."

The end for both the Mae Bar and Medley's came with the changing times. As rock music became more popular, kids started turning to rowdier forms of entertainment. During the late seventies, they stopped going to the Mae Bar in their old numbers.

Partly, says Mae and Norm, it was the new drinking laws. You didn't have to be 21 to drink any more and alcohol was much easier for everyone to get once the old permit system was done away with. The Mae Bar didn't have a drinking licence, and their soda fountain, which used to be one of their biggest drawing cards, no longer seemed to arouse the same interest in the new generation.

Also when the Highway 35 bypass was built, the traffic stopped pouring past the Mae Bar. That, says Fred Chapple, was one of the biggest reasons for the drop in clientele.

But there was still a good crowd coming to the restaurant in 1984 when the Price's finally decided to close down. Mae's health, after her 50th wedding anniversary, wasn't as good as it once was, and both husband and wife were finding the business heavy going.

"The time comes when you have to let go," says Mae. "Of course we're going to miss the place and we've spent a lot of happy years running it."

Soon, the Price's will be leaving Minden altogether and moving to Toronto to be near their children. "We'll be back though," says Mae. "It's been the happiest time of our lives up here."

Enthusiastically leading the pack, riders head out on the sixth annual Terry Fox run in Haliburton. These participants were among 47 who helped raise $1300 in aid of cancer research.

Pair fined $550 in raccoon incident

Two Scarborough men have been fined $550 each after being convicted in Provincial Offenses Court Tuesday morning.

Paul L. Lighthouse and Kenneth Gibb, both in their early 20's, were convicted of hunting with the aid of a light and hunting a furbearing animal out of season.

The charges arose after the pair were seen shooting at a raccoon at the Kennisis Lake garbage dump. Conservation Officers from the Ministry of Natural Resources and Constables from Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police were notified of the incident and the two were arrested later on in the evening of August 19.

In addition to the fines, the light used in the incident and the pellet pistol was confiscated. The two will be unable to obtain a hunting licence for the next two years as a result of the incident.

Justice of the Peace Dean Elliott commented that the methods used by the individuals was particularly inhumane. He pointed out that pellets would likely only injure a raccoon, which meant that the animals struck could suffer for a long time. He said that while what the individuals were doing could be classed as hunting under the law, their actions would be abhorrent to hunters everywhere. The incident was investigated by Conservation Officers Dan Smith and Bob Gater.

Kickers look forward to successful season

While both HHSS soccer teams went down to defeat in the opening contests played Thursday, coaches for the two teams are looking forward to a challenging year for the squads. The juniors were defeated by I.E. Weldon 5-3 while the seniors were blanked 4-0.

The juniors grabbed a 2-0 lead early in the game, however, the well conditioned I.E. Weldon team soon wore the local squad down and managed to score five goals before the end of the match. Coach Bob Penfold was pleased by the performance turned in by goalie Darren Warburton, half back Mark Sorenson and forward Derek Allison. Allison scored two goals for the team while the other marker came from Jason Smith.

Mr. Penfold predicted the team would do well this year, noting that the members had a lot of talent and drive. He said an extra bit of conditioning could make the junior team contenders in the high school league.

The seniors went down to a 4-0 defeat at the hands of the visitors unable to overcome an early lead established by I.E. Weldon. The visitors scored two quick goals in the first three minutes of play and never looked back.

Coach Walter Tose praised players Paul Kuno, Darryl Goodall and Barry

Scully for their fine performances.

The teams return to the field this Thursday when they meet Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute at the HHSS pitch. The junior game is set for 2 p.m. while the seniors match should get underway at 3:30 p.m.

Sharing a load of more than 24 pounds of freshly caught trout, Tony, left and Terry Prentice proudly display their weekend catch. The largest lunger landed by the Minden lads weighed in at over ten pounds. The impressive stringer of fish was the result of an expedition to Lake Ontario.

Sewer system

the municipality would double between 1977 and 1990. Though as the years passed, the number of people in Anson, Hindon and Minden did not grow appreciably, the user rates being charged for the system did grow.

By the early eighties, users were being charged triple the rates charged in 1977. At first the rate was based on the number of gallons of sewage each user produced, but it was eventually changed to depend on property ownership. Council was never told by the ministry of the full reason for the rate rises.

Eventually council hired a firm of Toronto consultants to study the problems of the sewer system. It was from this firm, (Woods Gordon) that council learned of the actual cost of the sewage plant.

Redmen split season opener

The HHSS Redmen Football teams split a pair of exhibition matches Friday in Haliburton. The Senior game was called near the end of the third quarter with the Redmen leading 13-1, while the Junior squad lost 6-0. The visiting team for this season opener came from Napanee.

The senior contest had to be called because of excessive roughness on the part of players on both teams. A number of minor scuffles broke out during the scrimmages before the referee finally called a halt to the action.

HHSS coach Gary Brohman blamed the roughness on three factors. He felt the referees had not called the game close enough, that the visitors were attempting to intimidate some of the Redmen players, and in return, some local players retaliated. The combination created the problems that eventually led to the premature cancellation of the contest.

The first Redmen touchdown came when Ian Cooper netted a 15 yard pass from Tom MacLeod. The convert from Alex Little was good. The second TD came from the one yard line when the quarterback Tom MacLeod pushed his way through the defenders for the marker. The convert kick went wide. The team had come to the Napanee goal line following an impressive 40 yard run by Andrew Burk.

The team managed two interceptions during the game. Drew Mitchell grabbed the ball on his own end zone to foil a Napanee touchdown drive. He conceded the single point. A second end zone interception by Craig Crowe was run out negating the scoring effort.

Coach Brohman cited the efforts of defenceman Mike Blake and Mike MacNaull in the team's winning effort. He also praised the efforts of Craig Burk and Peter Allore, who play on both defensive and offensive teams.

team are Craig Burk, Mike Blake and Mike MacNaull.

Coaching the team this year are Gary Brohman and Bob Colliver.

The Junior contest was a controlled scrimmage with the coaches watching the play from on the field. All members of both teams participated at some time during the match. The final score in the contest was 6-0 for Napanee.

Coaching the junior team this year are John Fitzgerald and Cam Bolt.

Dixie Lee plays final season game

by Jim Milne

Dixie Lee played its last game in the Muskoka District Soccer Association two weeks ago at the German Canadian Club north of Baysville. The team used three players from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School soccer Redmen to replace others who have left for college. Darryl Goodall played well in goal as did Kevin Barry at centre forward and Cecil Smith on the left wing.

Huntsville, the traditional end-of-season rivals, were looking for a win to erase the memory of their recent decisive defeat by Dixie Lee. It appeared in the first half that their revenge would be complete because they went ahead 3-0. Dixie Lee defenders were allowing Huntsville forwards to settle on the ball and to complete careful passes unchallenged. In the open field they outran Dixie Lee defenders to the ball.

Huntsville lost control of the midfield and the game changed. Hans Walter carried the ball right down to the Huntsville goal line near the left post where he eluded two defenders to send a low cross to Ivor Thompson who put it in. Walter scored himself by carrying the ball through the centre and shooting into the left corner from about 15 yards. Dixie Lee had a number of other chances before Huntsville completed their victory with a powerful shot from the left to the far corner. The final score was 4-2 for Huntsville.

Beginning Sunday September 14, Dixie Lee will play fun games with anyone who turns up at the High School by 1 p.m. The older players are looking forward to showing the high school players some tricks as they prepare for a tournament in Scarborough in October. Dixie Lee also wish the HHSS Soccer Redmen, Junior and Senior, the best of luck.

ANY OCCASION

GO BACKWARDS FASTER.

Shifting through a gear pattern in search of reverse can really slow a job down. A Kubota tractor can get it done faster. Our L3750 (36 PTO hp) and L4150 (40 PTO hp) tractors come with your choice of an easy-to-operate 8x8 transmission or an even easier hydraulic shuttle-shift. These tractors also come with a 5-cylinder direct-injection diesel engine, power steering and position and draft control. Both are available with 4-wheel drive.

So next time you've got a load of dirt in the bucket and can't find reverse, think about looking for a new Kubota instead.

Highlands attracts real estate convention

Over 200 real estate salesmen from throughout Central Ontario, gathered in the Haliburton Highlands for the annual meeting of their regional association. The meeting was hosted by the Haliburton Highlands Real Estate Board and the Lindsay and District Real Estate Board.

Minden realtor Norm Harrison, the head of Region 7 of the provincial organization, was the host for the two day conference.

The first day of the conference provided an opportunity for those involved in the real estate industry to meet socially. A golf tournament, which was plagued by persistent rain, was followed by a supper and dance in the evening at Wig-a-Mog Inn.

The second day, the delegates got down to business. During the day sessions the participants heard from Allan Batlis a motivational speaker. His presentations in the morning and afternoon were the hit of the gathering.

The keynote address was delivered by the President of the Ontario Real Estate Board (OREA) Maurice Lamond. He outlined the services offered to members by the association and urged them to get involved in the organization. Lamond noted that OREA has been actively lobbying the provincial government on a number of pieces of legislation. In particular, the organization is working to eliminate rent controls in the province. "We believe that rent controls have caused an unprecedented housing crisis in Ontario," he told the gathering.

The provincial association president also noted, "We are vocal in our opposition to Bill 11, the legislation which prevents the conversion of apartments to condominiums — event when the tenants want it." He challenged the members to think of another jurisdiction where the government, "...has told a group of citizens that they cannot purchase the home of their choice." Lamond suggested that the legislation was passed at the insistence of the NDP. "We're fighting it," he told the meeting.

Lamond was thanked by Norm Harrison and presented with a gift on behalf of those in attendance.

Members of Region 7 of the Ontario Real Estate Association heard from the provincial president Thursday, Maurice Lamond. He addressed the annual meeting of the organization held at the Wig-a-Mog Inn. Minden realtor and head of Region 7, Norman Harrison, was among the more than 200 delegates attending the meeting.

Call
Bell
before digging

Bell Canada repair crews handle in the neighbourhood of 8 to 10 cable cuts a month, but aim to reduce that number to zero.

Bell's local Cable Locate office receives about 600 calls a month, to verify the location of buried cable before construction starts, to prevent cable damage and telephone service interruptions.

To make it easier for the construction industry, Bell set up a new toll-free number (1-800-461-1795) for calls from the Peterborough, Lindsay and Haliburton areas.

"Damage to buried cable means loss of phone service to our customers, and this becomes a real problem, especially when emergency services like hospitals lose service," said Joan Poirier, Bell's local manager.

"We're delighted with the co-operation we get from the construction people, but we continue to encourage anyone planning construction projects to follow their example."

With 48 hours notice, Bell provides details of buried cable in any area.

White frost this morning, really looks like fall is just around the corner. Our Tuesday Service in the Chapel was taken by Robert Wunker and his wife of Miner's Bay. On Sunday evening, by Rev. J. Burgess and Mrs. Burgess. We do appreciate these services.

Monday night movies were "Breath of Spring", "Beaver Makes A Come-back", and "Between The Tides". They were very nice.

Annie Cox was pleased to have an old friend Jack Sinclair from Lindsay visit her. She also had Bill and Nellie Tate from Bobcaygeon and her son Herb from Bobcaygeon.

Mrs. Burgess had two lady friends in for dinner Saturday night. We had Mr. Bill Payne and three others in Friday evening to play and sing. It's always a pleasure for us all.

Sally Cox started nursing September 1st, at Owen Sound Hospital. Her parents spent a few days with her at Owen Sound.

The Ladies from Kinmount Legion brought in the Tea Party lunch on Thursday. It was nice to see them and as usual the food was delicious.

We are glad to say Mrs. Shuyler is home from the hospital and getting along nicely but, we are sorry to report Edna Cowan is not too well again.

She had her brother Alton Hughes and his wife Shirley in to see her on Saturday. Ryan Bacon and his wife and baby were also in to see her.

Annie Cox's grandson Ryan took part in the Boat races in California. He came in 2nd in three and 1st in three.

George and Jean Hewitt brought their two grandchildren Devon and Lauren Dart to see me for a short visit Saturday afternoon.

Mervin Brohm and his little girl Sarah came to call on Charlie Brohm. Glad to see Jean Taylor back after four days visiting friends.

Everyone here or nearly everyone is busy making articles for our next Bazaar.

Carrie Jones won high score at fun and fitness Friday morning in the Bucket Ball Game.

If all's well, see you next week!

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Members of the Minden Ontario Hydro staff received a practical lesson in firefighting this week when John Holden, safety officer from Toronto, visited the local office. Following a series of classroom lectures, the employees had an opportunity to test the effectiveness of various fire extinguishers. A large pan of flaming oil was used in the demonstration. Holden is seen here assisting Nerina Rogers put out the flames.

Trent Severn report

On September 8, the lakes of Gull, Burnt, Mississauga, Eels and Jack tributaries to the Otonabee River averaged 60% of their normal full level. This was about 2.5% higher than the ten years average for that date.

Only small flow changes were required early in the week while dry conditions prevailed.

Very wet conditions at the end of the week caused large flow increases along the Otonabee and Trent rivers, forcing a boating advisory to be in effect along the entire Waterway. Rainfall amounts by the morning of September 12 were 145 mm - Kirkfield, 45 mm - Haliburton and 47 mm - Peterborough.

Higher than normal flows along all major tributaries and rivers can be expected for all of next week and possibly extending longer as a trend toward wet weather continues.
